

Results: Spectral dimension controls squeezing scaling

$d_s > 3$ leads to
OAT-like squeezing
 $2 < d_s < 3$ yields critical squeezing
 $d_s < 2$ no scalable
squeezing

- Geometric prerequisite: Existence of a percolating cluster in the network
- Disorder shifts squeezing threshold, but does not affect scaling universality
- Spectral dimension governs dynamic timescales and squeezing minimum scaling exponents

